1. About the Publication Scheme

Every public authority covered by the Freedom of Information Act has a legal duty to maintain a Publication Scheme.

The purpose of the Publication Scheme is to make information readily available to the public without the need for specific written requests. Schemes are intended to encourage authorities to proactively publish information, to develop a culture of openness and participation.

The Publication Scheme lists the information which is readily available to the public. The list is divided into seven (7) different categories of information, to help you find the documents you are looking for.

The Publication Scheme commits the Office of the Commissioner of Police (OCP) to making information available to the public as part of its normal business activities.

The Office of the Commissioner of Police (OCP) will:

- specify the information held by the authority, which falls within the seven (7) categories below;
- proactively publish or otherwise make routinely available, information which is held by the authority and falls within the categories below;
- describe the methods by which specific information is made available, so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public;
- list any fees charged for access to information described in the Scheme;
- publish or otherwise make information available, in accordance with the methods and fees stated in the Scheme;
- make the Publication Scheme available to the public;
- regularly review and update the information made available under the Scheme.

2. Information that may be withheld

The Office of the Commissioner of Police (OCP) will generally not publish:

- information in draft form;
- information that is not held by the Office of the Commissioner of Police (OCP) or which has been disposed of in accordance with a legally authorised disposal schedule;
- information that is not readily-available – for example: information that is contained in files that have been placed in archive storage, or is otherwise difficult to access;
- information which is exempt under the FOI Act, or otherwise protected from disclosure – for example: personal information; or commercially sensitive information. Records containing exempt matter will be published in a redacted¹ form, where ever it is practical to do so, indicating which exemptions apply.

In maintaining the Publication Scheme, our aim is to be as open as possible.

However, there may be limited circumstances where information will be withheld from one of the categories of information listed in section 7: Categories of information.

Information will only be withheld where the FOI Act expressly permits it.

For example: where disclosure would breach the law of confidentiality, infringe personal privacy, harm the OCP's (or another organisation's) commercial interests, or endanger the protection of the environment.

Whenever information is withheld, we will inform you of this and explain why that information cannot be released. Even where information is withheld, it may be possible to provide a redacted copy, with the exempt matter edited out.

If you wish to complain about any information which has been withheld, please refer to section 6: Complaints.

Organisation and Functions

The Office of the Commissioner of Police (“OCP”) was established to focus and align the policing, safety, and security resources of the Cayman Islands under a dedicated leadership and direction. The OCP is currently constituted of two departments – the Royal Cayman Islands Police Service (RCIPS) and the Cayman Islands Coast Guard (CICG).

The Royal Cayman Islands Police Service (RCIPS) is a single, national police service with a unified command structure. It is an unarmed service, with an armed response capability, that is mandated by statute to deliver the full range of police services across the Cayman Islands. Officers and personnel work in a variety of roles, including emergency response, road safety and enforcement, child protection, criminal investigation, intelligence, drug and firearm interdiction, border security, community outreach, finance and administration, and many others.

The Cayman Islands Coast Guard (CICG) is a uniformed and disciplined department of the OCP, responsible for maritime enforcement of local laws, coordination and delivery of all maritime search and rescue response within territorial waters and internationally agreed search and rescue region (SRR), ensuring compliance with applicable international law, conventions and treaties relating to ensuring the safety of life at sea and pollution prevention, and criminal interdictions in territorial waters and on the high seas.

STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT

Administering the authority’s operations at the organisational level; developing business plans and corporate policy; setting long-term goals and objectives; evaluating the agency’s overall performance and progress towards established targets; managing programs to improve business processes and ensure consistent service delivery; preparing or revising laws and other regulatory instruments that affect the authority’s functions and responsibilities; obtaining legal advice from external sources.

The vision of the OCP is to maintain a peaceful country where communities and visitors feel safe and secure.

Our objective is to uphold the law fairly and firmly; to prevent and detect crime; to pursue and bring to justice those who break the law; to keep the peace and to protect, help and reassure the community with integrity, sound judgment and common sense.

We shall achieve our mission by focusing on performance, working with our partners, recognising diversity and human rights and by being compassionate, courteous and patient in our work. We must be professional, calm and restrained when faced with violence, applying only such reasonable force as is necessary to accomplish our lawful duty. We will act with integrity, flexibility and commitment. We will strive to reduce the fears of the public and respond to well-founded criticism with a willingness to learn and change.
